SEBASTIAN COPIEN – COOKING ACCORDING TO YOUR NATURE

Our assortment – created by a famous and fantastic vegan cook: Sebastian Copien. From the field into the cooking pot, a maximum of natural and organic, seasonal and local products.

The highest appreciation of food, the producer and the people, intuitive, loving and attentive preparation of all meals – that is the kitchen philosophy of Sebastian Copien. SIGGIS is selling his cook books directly here in this store – just ask us :-)

WE ARE SUSTAINABLE, BECAUSE ...

- we work without animal testing, without flavour enhancers, without artificial flavouring and colouring, without refined sugar, without palm oil, as far as possible organic and with local and small suppliers
- we use organic cleaning agents, cleaning cloths made of bamboo, a recycled coffee machine, biodegradable packing materials and straws as well as recycled furniture and also purchase our electricity from a 100% ecological supplier
- we put emphasis on the reasonable and organic utilization of our leftovers
- we even make sure that the label adhesives of our beverages, including our cooking wine and the adhesive of the labels for our sandwiches do not contain any animal components.
- because we are eager to learn and are open for any tips and advice on how to improve our ecological footprint even more.

We are very glad that we could find suppliers and manufacturers who are certified organic for almost every section of our purchases.
